Is Church on the Wrong Track?

Disappointed Frontline Church Leader in England Is Deeply-pained in Medicine Propaganda and Tendency Politics

by A. HENRI

FRONTIER is publishing for weeks of now its front-line feature of social life. The idea is to show the way in which the world is changing. It is a very good idea. But the way in which it is being done is not so good. The way in which it is being done is not so good. The way in which it is being done is not so good.

EXCEPTIONAL RIDING COMFORT

The new Dodge Brothers Touring Car is exceptionally comfortable to ride in; it is good looking, and it incorporates many important refinements of detail.

The body is longer and lower, sleeker, side view, affording more leg room, and enhancing the beauty of the lines.

Deeper seats, long underfloor rear springs and longer front springs, give a gentle ride that even ordinary touring can be enjoyed without weariness or fatigue.

New head lamps and fenders harmonize smartly with the general design. The rear seat, and all upholstery, is removable. The running boards are longer and wider.

Transmission and brake levers are more conveniently arranged, and the steering wheel is ideally shaped for easy control.

Yet with all these improvements, and many others, it is still fundamentally the same car—built on the same chassis and powered by the same sturdy engine.

The price of the Touring Car is $2195 f.o.b. Windsor

WHO looks after the air in your tires? We will tell you who should!

The person who looks after the air in your tires should be the same person who drives your car, winds your watch and signs your checks.

A few garages or service men may be glad and willing to test the air in your tires for you. But he or she often blows a thousand and one other things.

Checking up air pressure is one of these simple necessary little tasks that it's better to do for yourself so that you know they are done regularly and carefully.

Dangers in too little air

Tires run on too little air puncture more easily. They wear out quickly, and besides the wear of rubber, if tires are unevenly inflated your car will not steer so easily.

Tires over inflated lack resilience. The car becomes stiff and suffers from lack of the cushioning effect.

Own a Schrader Latent Tire Pressure Gauge, and use it yourself. Its operation is quick and simple. It tells you accurately the air pressure in your tires. You don't have to guess.

You can buy a Schrader Gauge at almost any rubber-depositary, shop, garage, or hardware store. A special is made for trucks, wire wheels, and which with thick spokes or large brake drums.
